

Mammography Statistics

Every year over 200,000 American women are diagnosed with breast cancer. American Cancer Society screening guidelines for the early detection of breast cancer vary depending on a woman's age and risk, and include mammography and clinical breast examination (CBE).

Mammograms can help find breast cancer early, when treatments are more likely to be successful. If you're 40 or older, get a mammogram every year and invite your family, friends, neighbors, and colleagues to do the same.
